

Japan-Seattle Suzuki Institute

Need-Based Scholarship Application

The Japan-Seattle Suzuki Institute is pleased to be able to offer need-based scholarships to a limited number of students in 2010. Unfortunately, we expect that the current economic conditions may result in more applicants requesting financial assistance than in previous years.

We do not require verification of the applicant's financial condition. However, in order to help ensure that the Institute will provide assistance to as many applicants in need of financial aid as possible, applicants must respond to the questions below. Furthermore, we encourage you to provide any additional information that you feel may be relevant to your application for a need-based scholarship.

Applicant's Name: _____

Parents' Names: _____

Telephone Number: _____ E-mail Address: _____

Instrument: _____ Book level: _____

Are you willing to volunteer your time before and/or during the institute in exchange for scholarship funds? ____

How many children will you have attending the institute this year? _____

What other activities are your child participating in this summer? _____

Could you pay partial tuition? _____

If yes, how much of the tuition could you pay? _____
